

Richmond, a child friendly community where young children thrive

A photograph showing a woman and a young girl playing together. The woman is smiling and looking at the girl, who is focused on playing with colorful toys. The toys include a blue wire structure with yellow and green rings, and a yellow and green beaded toy. The background is slightly blurred, showing other people in a room.

Play is the work of childhood